

BARRE DAILY TIMES

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Subscriptions: One year, $4; one month, 25 cts. single copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

"Have one on me," says the sportive Russian, and he hands out a bomb to a member of royalty. Royalty accepts out of necessity.

The Burlington Free Press should not believe everything that appears in type concerning the liquor situation in Barre. Some of our neighbors are amusing themselves.

Mayor Corry of Montpelier will have the streets of his city kept free of intoxicated persons, even if he has to secure a new police force. Success to Mayor Corry!

Two union bands which played in the taboed Knights Templar parade at Boston yesterday will have to pay the fiddler, so it is said. Each member faces a fine of fifty dollars.

An exchange thinks that State's Attorney Jackson is a competent man and is doing his duty. Various individuals hereabouts know it as they are able to testify from unwelcome personal experience.

We were just about to agree with the Vermonters who declared that there are ten months of winter and two of tarnation cold weather in this state, but Spring seems to have finally hung out Winter's dispossession notice.

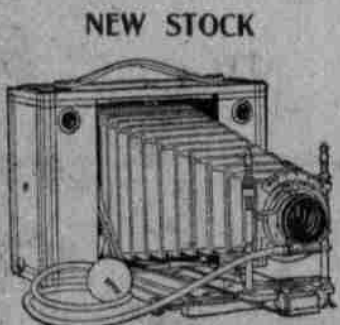

There is one column in today's paper which will be perused with unusual interest. It is the annual chance for people to snoop about in other people's business affairs without giving offense. It also affords opportunity to know if your own name is included in the list of "heavy taxpayers."

Slow returns on heavy loans is the cause ascribed to account for the difficulties of the Merchants' Trust company of New York, whose doors were closed Tuesday. There are a good many institutions, which are not banks, that can lay the blame for their difficulties to the same "slow returns on heavy loans." It is the cause for most failures, in fact.

The failure of the teamsters' association and their employees in Chicago to settle their differences is greatly to be deplored inasmuch as the long struggle which is now expected can scarcely result in any good to either party to the controversy. It will necessarily mean great deprivation and suffering, inconvenience and loss of money. Yet Chicago people have come to look upon these periodic labor wars as a usual thing, for Chicago is the great warring ground of the two bodies. Arbitration influences seem to be the least powerful there, also.

The First Dolls.

The first dolls of which there is any knowledge were found among the treasures unearthed from the ruins of Babylon. They were small figures in terra cotta and ivory, beautifully carved, and most have been fascinating playthings for the little Assyrian children.

Columbus.

There are in existence more than 700 biographies of Columbus, written in various languages.

Canned Salmon.

The fishy taste can be removed from canned salmon or lobster by putting it in a colander, pouring boiling water over it and then letting it stand long enough to drain and cool.

Isolated Iceland.

Iceland is the last country that has fallen under the glance of the wireless experts. There is no method of communication between that country and the rest of the world except by slow mails.

Serpent Worship.

Serpent worship still survives in India, and a snake shrine is said to be as much an attraction in a house on the Malabar coast as a garden in the case of a country home in the United States. Serpents are, however, most unobtrusive, and unless one walks noiselessly and barefooted in the dark, as Hindus do, snake bite is an improbable contingency.

"The Liberty Belles."

Harry B. Smith's musical comedy, "The Liberty Belles," which ran for nearly an entire season at the Madison Square Theatre, New York, will be the attraction at the opera house this evening. The organization is under the management of Fred G. Berger, and contains over forty people. It is in three acts, the first being laid in a seminary for young ladies, the second in the kitchen of a cooking school and the third at a hotel in Florida. A great variety of songs, choruses and specialties are introduced. It is claimed that some twenty thousand dollars has been invested in this attraction by Manager Berger. One of the novelties of the attraction is the famous Radium Dance, the reigning New York sensation. It is introduced in the third act of "The Liberty Belles," and will be presented with exactly the same number of people as are used in New York. Another novelty is the elimination of the time-honored chorus, as every member of the cast plays a part.
